

Gain Insight and Value from All of Your Work Experiences

The workplace challenges us to discover the heroism within to work from the center of ourselves in all that we do. As a "labyrinth of experiences," our work presents us with a variety of moral, ethical, psychological, and interpersonal tests to help us become the human beings we are meant to be!

You will learn:

- How the heroic journey can help you transform your work experiences into a "heroic training ground" for the evolution of your character and consciousness.
- How the heroic journey's ten stages can help you successfully move through your personal process of development.
- How to tap into your heroic infrastructure to become a more effective agent of change.
- How service to others is the ultimate demonstration of your heroic maturity.
- How to expand your heroic consciousness to experience greater meaning and joy in your work.
